

I am both saddened and outraged at Sinclair's broadcasting use of the public airwaves. Broadcasters are licensed by the public and for the public. They are using our airwaves and their licenses can and should be revoked when their misuse harms the community.

In Sinclair's case airing only one side of an election so close to voting time clearly is an abuse of public trust. They should not be allowed to do this. You, the FCC, have a grave duty to stop this misuse of democracy. That is your most solemn trust. Either Sinclair must not air this film or it must be following by Going Upstream or an equivalent Democratic choice.

If not, steps to revoke their license should begin immediately.
